Sept 13- 1835- Sunday-

I rose early determined if possible to be early at church- which I am not often, went to the free church- & heard a very stupid preacher & was not much edified- if these denunciations of Sin could be understood they would certainly be considered incendiary- came home to dine, and in the afternoon I went with Miss Farley to hear the Gannett- his text was: It is I- be not afraid- he spoke anent duty, as if he had some sense of what it consisted in- I should much enjoy the prospect- if I could see his society, determined, to go for the abolition & its schemes my present impression is, that he would experience a change of opinion- in the shortest possible time- in the evening I heard a sermon at Ritchie Hall- from the morning preacher- it was uninteresting- Monday I was in school all day called at Maria's a moment- in the evening at home Sarah Anne called and Eugenia came- I hardly expected her

Tuesday in School all day - In the evening heard from Deborah who had been at the Bailey's & called in West Street coming home that she may boast there - & had brought good news from the Thompson - he is to remain here - & moreover that he would be in West Street the next day with Mrs G - Wednesday in School all the morning - Miss Diana called - & Mrs & Miss Hetson - Deborah gone with the Chapmans to Mount Auburn - went to West Street to dine with Mr & Mrs Thompson - & Mr Chapman but it was a poor concern - the dinner I mean - for G himself was very entertaining - & I could never hear Good Stories of his telling - had not my attention been so distracted at the time - Saturday he goes to Weymouth - but I suppose he will be constantly appearing there - I am not so comfortable in many respects as I wish I were just now - but I hope that all inconveniences may be disposed of before long -- Thursday 17. In school all day - after school in the morning - Miss Dodge & Miss Percival called Miss Dana & Sylvia Ammidon - Then came Mrs Johnson, & then a Mr King, to call upon Eugenia who by the way came to us Monday - We have sent for Mary and Anne to tea - & The Danas announced their intention of coming - & Ammidons - Sarah Bowing came in the Stage So we shall have a good house full - —— We made what preparation time & means permitted & had a very pleasant evening - Mr Parker came - Though quite unexpectedly - I like him very well We had some fine Music - came to a determination that believe me much To-day — do what comes To-morrow - Friday 18 at home all day in school - no company - in not remarkably good spirits - I hope that a few weeks will relieve me of some uneasiness - Sarah Ann called - Anne in a queer way - & the

I may not record I can never forget the embarrassments that seem to be springing up – Charlie took tea with us – Friday evening Elisabeth Bushing spent the evening & Sir Farley came in – Saturday 19th a pleasant day after an unpromising dawn – rose early put my domestic affairs en train went at 10 to Mrs Chapman's found that the great man had been there, & was to come again – went with anne to Mrs Foster's – & went back to West Street before I had completed lining & trimming her bonnet Thompson came in – he sat an hour – & was very agreeable he read extensively from English papers which he had lately received – I am liking him better & better – came home, went to the railway for the children – & then down to the Stage office to engage two passages for Weymouth – Got home barely time for dinner & then went to West Street where I found anne in a nervous state as the

MS R 37.7 p. 25

fear the hour might come & not the man - but he came & we had a pleasant talk - until the stage came and I had the felicity of seeing him safely deposited in the Weymouth coach - & came in a state of great exaltation by his success - now I have only to hope for pleasant weather & that all may go well - I am sure they cannot get up a mob in Braintree or Weymouth - and am equally sure that if he gets a full house he will make many converts to the good cause - I have just read the Liberator a most capital one it is - The letter of Miss Grimke to Garrison is superbe it is worthy an apostle - I hope that the same spirit is in many as is in her - but fear that = they be few - in the afternoon Miss Richardson & Miss Eaton came took tea & past the evening - She R came in the evening - Grimke an interesting young man —

Sunday 20 — I was disturbed much in the night by a ghostly bell ringing but more disturbed in the morning to find a sharp pain — but I shall let it work — & if they go down to Weymouth I shall ~~assurement~~ — go Too — else not go to church nor to Sabbath to have —

Stacia quietly at home all the morning just before dinner Maria sent to say that she would call for me in half an hour — hurried dinner — but before it was over the carriage came — Henry came Maria & the two children were then in — ××× a state of great satisfaction — the rain seemed abating — the roads were good — & we have a comfortable drive except that I suffered great uneasiness for fear that the plaster — have not worken back — before we got to Quincy there were glimpses of sunshine — & the rich crimson & Golden foliage of the Autumn woods was more splendid than any thing I ever saw before - we got to Weymouth just as the people had all got nicely into church - but though he supposed the great man might be preaching he did not venture in but went directly home where we found no one but Sarah Mitchell - who sat tearing for the end of the preaching over the kitchen fire - I could extract nothing satisfactory from her but that she herself was better - the children ate tea as fast as they could - at four the good folks came home - & Anne was in a state of great exultation, all had gone on well - the Perkins had been as accommodating as possible - her drive to Weymouth had been delightful & Mr G had preached a capital sermon that afternoon - all was right - & the assembly did not seem at all insubordinate We took a hasty tea & made as many arrangements hastily for our night-ride - & then went to church - where we found a large audience assembled - when Mr Thompson arose to address them there was a hush almost too powerful - painful - I mean for long endurance - how such a multitude could be so still I know not - but the listeners for a minute must have held their breath to hear

I trust they were not disappointed Mr T. spoke two hours - he went at large into the politicae or what is called the political view of the matter - the present peculiar state of the country the sins of the church - & the northern states - he was not as eloquent as I have sometimes heard him but upon the whole for the times & the place it could not be better - as T the lecture concluded & we drove Mr T. to our house - where after some hot coffee & cake he started for Boston - Mercy - Thompson Deborah Anne & Sally - he had a very in-

Ms. A. 92.7 p. 22

tuesting drive - he describes his progress through England & his conflicts with Bothwick - & hers as agreeable as possible about 12 - he rolled into the city — the carriage wheels - half rouses many a sleeper - who did not dream what fiendishness were up & doing then in - endeavoring work — he found Harvey waiting for us - & we rode & safe — and went to West Street to take care of G. & he to bed to try to sleep Monday 21 - rose quite early - called at Annie's, found our friend there, & Ann Chapman paying her devotions - he was in fine spirits - went down to the book stores & then home Ann stays there to-day - Mr Grant called in my absence & left me some papers & encouraging statements - the papers are doubling - the cage fast - The Country will soon be an abolitionist - I think think — Brother Barry called - in school all day — in the evening called at Miss Parkes a moment — & then at home — no one in -

Tuesday ann still at Harris's taking care of Henry & a friend of theirs - he left however this morning & his place was ill supplied by a young Southerner I was at home all day - Miss Irving called ann Sarah ann & Miss Percival - in the evening alone - tea & - Dr Farnsworth called - & I shall always remember his call he stole me something I was sorry to hear - Wednesday - Eugenia loves to spend the day at the American house with some friends - Ann & Delbon & the Temperance convention - Miss Davenport came in the afternoon - In the evening Eugenia at the Theatre with an old friend of hers - & A & D at the Old South - I was in school all day - I have a dream last night Thus - I wonder if it would might be true -

Sept 24 ~~Wednesday~~ Thursday In the morning - Ann. came from Harris's she has seen Dr F. but did not obtain me much - I went to the

MS. H. 23.7 P. 65

Bacon a short time to hear them manage conventions & Ann was satisfied that it is the good & the true that is every where opposed — heard Charles Sargent — who was to the point — and Amasa Walker who was very distinct — & the Watson of Newport who said he would drink as much as he chose or to that effect — the Bacon is not pleasant to me, the who is very unpleasant — — the wine question was discussed furiously — & the house seemed to be divided upon it — I did not stay long — in school till 4 — then went to call upon Eugenie's Music Master or mistress — in the evening Ann & I went to the Bacon to hear Dunkin deliver a lecture upon Temperance — they thought it stupid — I was at home through the evening — a Mr Low of Ipswich here calling on the Farleys — Friday 25 — In School all day — walked with Mary Parker in the morning & had a long confab — at noon Sarah Ann & Ann Phipps man called — this

Davenport & Sarah Smith here — Sophie persist in her determination to go to the west — In the afternoon Ann went with Henry to Weymouth to get Ch — I wish much to hear what news from to — Deborah went to an anti Slavery meeting at Deacon Gulliver's — Warren out, Henry & Stacy I alone with Benjamin Rodman & he had free discussion & abuse on each others principles — & friends — in love — all the evening —

Saturday morning — Henry came back — bringing Sarah Mitchell who looks better & Lizzy — Thomas refused to come, being engaged in forming an anti Slavery Society in Weymouth — I long to hear how the succeeded Henry Bowen came & brought us some apples & says that Weymouth is anti Slavery — Sat down & wrote a long letter to Mary Lincoln — & one to Mary Moorfield — & one to Ann & in answer to a very strange letter that Henry brot me from her – then dressed & went to market – & to Post's – & then to make a call in Hancock's Avenue – but did not find the person I went to see – came home & dined & after dinner Mrs Darby & Miss Oh called – for a moment Miss White called – & Miss Roaman – Norman White but I did not see him – Miss Dan- & I went to call upon Mrs Badham – had a pleasant call – Met Dr L- today who engaged Mary Anne to come next Term – In the evening I was given to understand that our friend H. might possibly come – but was disappointed – Winston came Dr Kirby – who was rather interesting – Henry came & told us that Lizzy had been somewhat unfortunate – was in raptures with the life of Sir Henry Vane which he had been reading –

Sunday – morning – 27th a beautiful day Mr Thompson called in Locust Street & then set off with Brother Mary to Abington – where he is to preach. I soon went with Lizzy to Mr Winslow's church – the Young Ladies to the Principle – where Powers Francis was – & I to the Gannetts where is Mourning as usual about his friends the Abolitionists - to whom he describes as the children of this world - as opposed to his pious congregation to whom he denominates children of light - but though he they were not so efficient as far as means been concerned as those first mentioned -

Oh Oh J - you have a stick to climb & you are even now breath less - & hardly know right from wrong - in the afternoon went to the free church - where there is more fellowship - heard a Mr Mann of Connecticut - a very good man apparently - I was delighted to see Garrison once more & my confidence in human nature that had been shaken in the morning was renewed - he made a triumphal progress from the door to his seat - & the church was crowded with those who I verily believe came to see him alone - Miss A. at the old South - Det at the windows - in the evening sat with Miss D. & went early to bed - to morrow - the time will be made - I suppose - I hope all will go well — Sat[urday] & Monday morning - Harriet & Anne came from Weymouth very well and in very fine spirits - they had move an anti slavery Society of 30 members - & they were all well disposed - they have now a good stage ride - & talked at a slave holder - Monday noon Henry Parker called on & told us that our friend was mobbed at Abington - - both done Abington - The poor man was there alone - & have not a friend to look upon - but got through his lecture famously - & was just grazed by a stone - In the afternoon the N.E. A.S.S. held their quarterly meeting at 46 - We felt great apprehensions of a mob - Ann & S. Philbrick went & had a delightful meeting - I stayed at home in great trepidation - thinking every noise I heard was the coming mob - as soon as School was over I ran down street - to learn how the battle went - I met a throng of abolitionists coming up - looking comfortable so turned back - I found that they have had the best of times & George Thomp son - addressed a good audience - without interruption - they were much elated In the evening Anne Stevie at home & I went to Gullevies to the Monthly concert of prayer for the slaves — we supposed that the mob would turn out of course but we had a quiet & orderly meeting & against the incendiary addresses us without any let or hindrance - - So it is now resorted against those bound by a vow to prevent his speaking - that their agreement with death is disannulled & their covenant with hell is broken - no fury of theirs can make it thus he has at present his day this 28 Sept - 835 —— after meeting was over - we had a little conversation in Stevies drawing room and then went home - J Wales called Tuesday was in School all day - nothing particular happened - My mind is disturbed about R's plans but hope it is all for the best -

Wednesday 30th In School all day - nothing particular happened - In the aft - took tea at Chauncy Place - Mrs Loring - Ellis J. called & Dr Farnsworth heard from home -

Thursday ~~Sept~~ Oct 1st In School all day very uncomfortable - a great deal to do & little of time or courage to do it - a great deal of fuss among the brethren about a charge in the atlas - I went out at noon & met the Chay who went with me to Mann's - found a letter from Mrs Fifield & Ann Chapman - there Ah - was very interesting - Anne dined at West Street - We expected an acquaintance in the evening who did not come - after School - after tea indeed Aunt Chany walked in - We surrounded her - & indeed were very glad to see her -

She said that the E. was going to Framingham in the morning - We were very busy all the evening - Set up till 1 o'clock - & got all ready

Friday Oct 2d - a beautiful day at early dawn Anne & H. set out to seek their fortune in the land of steady habits - I shall be uneasy till I hear from them which will not be I dare pose until the one of the quarter - that is next day save one — patience & shuffle — I felt relieved after they left us & was in school

Ch & - no one here in the evening - Miss Chamberlain Saturday at home all day the morning - Miss Ch. called - Eugenie walked to Roxbury went out Aunt G - J - - spent the rest of the morning. at Chamis - dohen I was between tantalum — I felt more & more assured that this man's crime was but to worship is sincerity & truth — dined at home after dinner Ch. called went out with her - & shook her off - & Mr Burton joined me - had a long walk with him, & a talk - somewhat interesting - — at home in the evening - no one in — Eugenie - at Aunt Auburn This afternoon — Sunday morning went to the Pierpont Church - to hear him deliver his farewell previous to going to England but he did not preach - Blank - preached a miscrable Sermon about not respecting persons

& Mr Swinson made a short & miserable address — in the afternoon went to the Free Church there they had Mr Swinson preaching — in the evening — at home — 5th Monday Morning — In School all day — or rather the noon feeling very anxious went at ½ past 3 to 4 — where I found a most excellent Meeting — Mr Thompson spoke as usual splendidly — & Jarvis Grigg gave his testimony as to the Thorncliff Charge — It was dark — when it was over — I have some apprehension of a mob — but it passed quietly off — — in the evening went down to Congress Hall where I got sadly taken in — Nothing but a regular Revival Meeting —

Tuesday 6th At home rain all day — no one in no Scholars —

Wednesday Tuesday evening while at Tea Mr Corning stopped & Thos brought his arm back he was somewhat fatigued but bore it Pharisonsly on the whole — has met with no difficulty — & tho' he did not succeed in arranging matters entirely — yet I was very well pleased on the whole - Wednesday 7th in school all day except that I went out to buy a stove, & did not succeed - Deborah went to Weymouth with Mr Kingsbury, ann went to a board meeting at Miss Perkins - & as several distinguished characters were present, she enjoyed it very much - No one in -

Thursday 8 - the new quarter begins - two new scholars & two more expected - the school will do pretty well - but it cannot be denied that it might be better; never mind - there is nothing like waiting patiently - & I trust all will come out well! Miss A.'s leaving was a cross to me - but I hope she may come back yet - -

I was in school all day - at noon I walked out & chat Rev - Mr Burton - - I told him of the meetings that might be expected the ensuing week - he said he would come & see me on that evening - I told him I would ask - Mr G - to drop in if I could find him - Charles left a note at the Anti Slavery rooms for him & in the evening they both came - I never heard Mr B - do better or - Mr G. so well - his Style of argument - his eloquence, his power - & earnestness, baffle description - suffice it to say that - he is if possible - more in conversation remarkable - than as a public Speaker I wished him a worthier foe - by worthier I mean one better informed - for nothing could be more ignorant than B - they Stain till 11 - however - & even later

- No one came in Maria being prevented by an Abolition play at her own house -
- Friday 9th - In School all day - called at the Bailey's & saw Mrs B - She is much emaciated but better - they are breaking up - & I feel as if - my early associations were undermined - & am very uncomfortable about it - want to see about a grate &c am but deprived up in nothing - Saturday - 10 - rose early - went out & sabbled around the Grates - which relieves my mind most essentially - called at the Baileys - Sarah Ann W - at Maria's - Ann Lee at - Acton - met the Grant - who told me that I had only

Two Scholars -- Misses Williams' called and Miss Hunneman -- called in Channey place -- part of the evening at Chevis's -- letter from Deb --

Sunday 11th -- went in the morning to the Pierpont with the girls -- heard a little stir from Cambridge enforce the duty of self examination -- got Mr Jackson to carry a notice of the meeting of the Boston female anti Slavery Society -- wonder if they will read it -- in the afternoon went over to Bowdoin Street where Rolph Randolph Gurley -- got up -- to preach about the reign of the Lord -- & after prosing in the most elegant style over the whole length & breadth of the Government of God -- he got fairly landed on the dark coasts of Africa & then he flourished a space -- I was filled with wonder at his audacity -- our notice was not read -- though there were many others -- Henry Ware read it through -- at the Second -- but neither Messrs Adams or Ripley -- noticed it at all -- came home -- to tea -- Anne & I went to Ch a moment -- Sat with the Girls a while or rather they Sat with me --

Anne went to Park Street to warren. I was sitting alone writing. when the door opened & dear Charley came in – & we have a long talk about matters & things – he told me all respecting certain matters, that I wanted most to know but the time was insufficient for all I have to say – Ann will wish she have left the missionaries to take care of themselves – I forgot to mention yesterday that I called at Miss Snelling's and Miss Sargent's – neither at home –

Received a letter from Miss Luther & Lincoln but I have written to her since hers was written – Mr Thornfield's sudden death I heard of Thursday but have heard no particulars as yet – Miss Andrews too is dead – so our acquaintances drop off one after the other – & it is wonderful how easily people are spared – Even the best & wisest can be "done with our –"
